

Concert seating, mask information and more

Last week we announced that concerts were back in the Renaissance Theater beginning this June 11, with the Eagles Tribute, One of These Nights (on sale May 4 at tickets.pebblecreekhoa.org; debit/credit card only). What we did not share is how many seats we are selling, mask policy and a few more details, so here is that additional information.

- We will be selling all the seats in the Theater.
- At the time of publication, we are asking that as you approach and enter the building, and until you are in your seat, that you wear a mask. Once you are in your seat, it will be your choice to keep in on or take it off. If this protocol changes prior to the concert, we will make that known. Ushers will also have the most up-to-date protocol information at event time.
- At this time, we are planning to sell tickets for 7 p.m. shows. If there is a huge demand, a second show on the same day will be added at 3 p.m. Ticket on-sale information for additional shows will be share as needed.
