

Restaurant phone lines are very busy -- Your patience is appreciated!

Both Eagle's Nest Restaurant and Toscana's are so grateful that many residents are ordering takeout food during this time of staying home to guard against coronavirus. As a result of this takeout popularity, their phone lines are ringing off the hook and it may be hard to get through. We ask your patience and hope you'll keep trying.

Since takeout food is packaged for reheating, you may want to place your orders early in the day when the phones aren't as busy.

Thank you for patronizing our restaurants' takeout service and for your patience when you order!
