Cheers! Our Chefs have some wonderful surprises coming up in the weeks ahead, like the Seafood Fideuà Chef Robert has on the menu for the first time next week. Weve just learned that fideuà is a seafood dish originally from the coast of Valencia, Spain. The dish is similar to paella but with noodles instead of rice. Checking out the dish on Wikipedia, we discovered that the invention of fideuà is attributed to a cook who worked on a boat. It seems the boat captain loved rice so much that the rest of sailors almost never received their full portion of paella, the dish that the cook usually prepared. Trying to find a solution for the problem, the cook had the idea of using noodles instead of rice to see if the result was a little less appetizing for the captain. It worked and the dish became famous. We cant wait to give it a try!

Heads up everyone! It's time to hop over to your calendar and start making plans for Easter brunch (see menu here). Tickets go on sale at Eagle's Nest on April 1 through April 15.
